

The Global X MSCI SuperDividend® EAFE ETF (EFAS) invests in 50 of the highest dividend yielding equity securities from the MSCI EAFE Index, which includes securities from international developed markets including Europe, Australia, New Zealand, and the Far East (Hong Kong, Japan, and Singapore).

KEY FEATURES

High Income Potential

EFAS accesses 50 of the highest dividend paying equities present in the MSCI EAFE Index.

Monthly Distributions

Like every fund in the SuperDividend® family, EFAS makes distributions on a monthly basis.¹

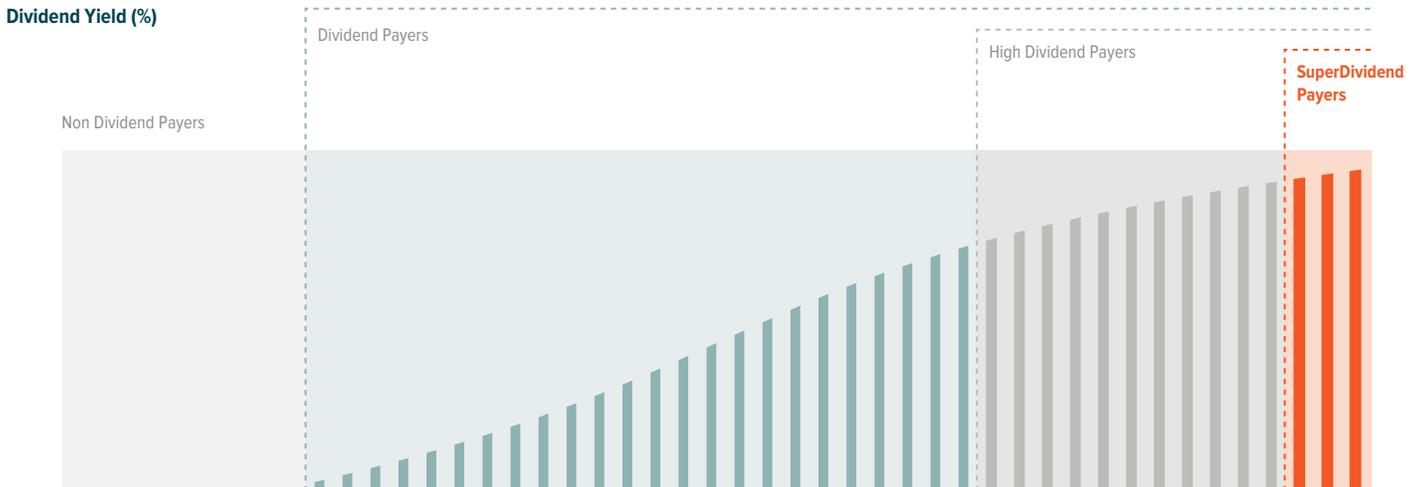

International Exposure

Investing in international equities from Europe, Asia, and the Far East can help diversify geographic, currency, and interest rate exposures.

THE CASE

Traditionally, dividend-focused funds have categorized stocks as non-dividend payers, dividend payers or high dividend payers. By segmenting stocks into just a few categories, “high dividend” funds tend to own a broad slice of the dividend-paying market. This strategy, however, does not typically attempt to go after the highest dividend paying segment of this market.

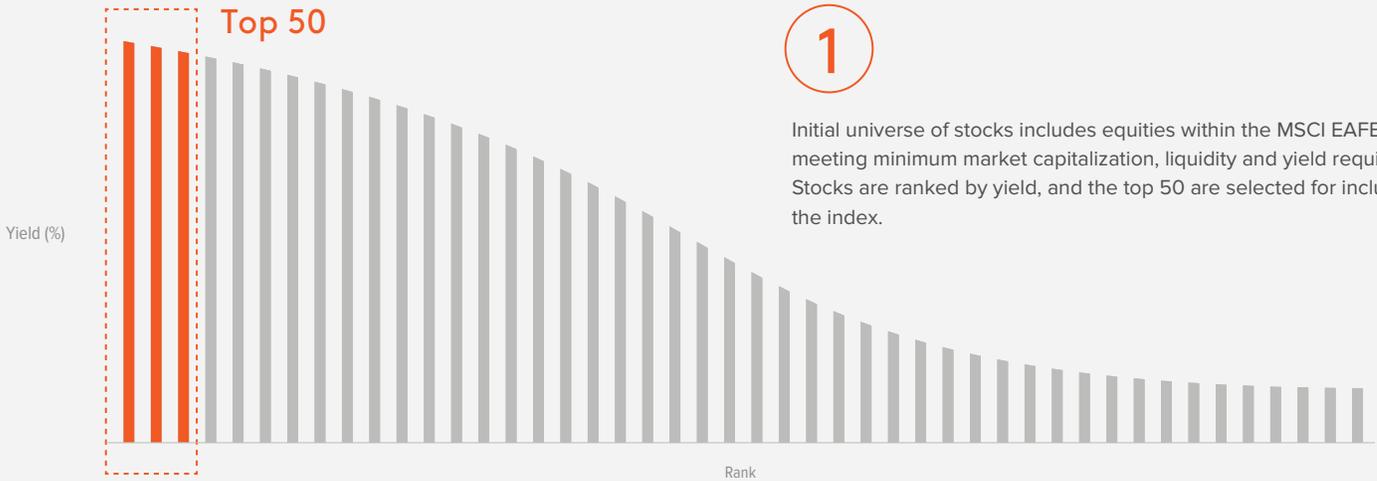

SuperDividend accesses just the highest tier of dividend payers, resulting in yields that have historically exceeded other high dividend ETFs.

¹There is no guarantee that dividends will be paid.

HOW IT WORKS

1

Initial universe of stocks includes equities within the MSCI EAFE Index meeting minimum market capitalization, liquidity and yield requirements. Stocks are ranked by yield, and the top 50 are selected for inclusion in the index.

2

These 50 stocks are equally weighted to reduce the risk associated with owning any one security.

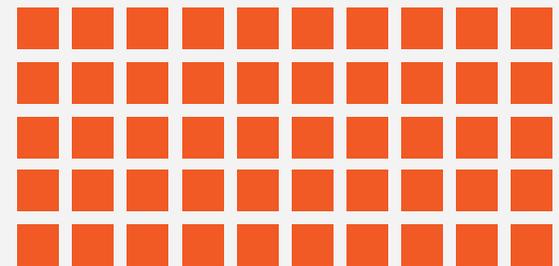

3

Once a quarter, the companies included in the index are screened for dividend cuts. Stocks removed from the index during these quarterly reviews are replaced with the next highest yielding stocks not currently in the index.

Sectors and country weights are capped at 35% each review.

4

Components are rebalanced annually.

DEFINITIONS

MSCI EAFE Index

The MSCI EAFE Index is a market cap weighted index consisting of equity securities from Developed Markets across Europe, Australasia, and the Far East. The index excludes Canada and the US.

Global X Management Company, LLC serves as an advisor to the Global X Funds. The Funds are distributed by SEI Investments Distribution Co. (SIDCO, 1 Freedom Valley Drive, Oaks, PA, 19456), which is not affiliated with Global X Management Company, LLC.

Investing involves risk, including the possible loss of principal. International investments may involve risk of capital loss from unfavorable fluctuation in currency values, from differences in generally accepted accounting principles, or from economic or political instability in other nations. Emerging markets involve heightened risks related to the same factors as well as increased volatility and lower trading volume. High yielding stocks are often speculative, high risk investments. These companies can be paying out more than they can support and may reduce their dividends or stop paying dividends at any time, which could have a material adverse effect on the stock price of these companies and the Fund's performance.

The Fund is non-diversified, which represents a heightened risk to investors. Furthermore, the Fund invests in small and mid-capitalization companies, which pose greater risks than large companies. Because the Fund's NAV is determined in U.S.dollars, the foreign issuers (including investments in ADRs and GDRs) are subject to the risks associated with investing in those foreign markets, such as heightened risks of inflation or nationalization. The Fund may be exposed to the risks of leverage, which may be considered a speculative investment technique. Leverage magnifies the potential for gain and loss on amounts invested and therefore increases the risks associated with investing in the Fund. High short-term performance of the fund is unusual and investors should not expect such performance to be repeated.

Shares are bought and sold at market price (not NAV) and are not individually redeemed from the fund. Market price returns are based upon the midpoint of the bid/ask spread at the close of the exchange and do not represent the returns an investor would receive if shares were traded at other times. Brokerage commissions will reduce returns. NAVs are calculated using prices as of 4:00pm ET. Indices are unmanaged and do not include the effect of fees, expenses or sales charges. One cannot invest directly in an index. The information provided is not intended for trading purposes, and should not be considered investment advice.
