

The Global X Guru Index ETF seeks to provide investment results that correspond generally to the price and yield performance, before fees and expenses, of the Solactive Guru Index.

HEDGE FUND HOLDINGS SELECTION

ACCESS TO HEDGE FUND TOP EQUITY IDEAS

Hedge funds spend tens to hundreds of millions on talent and research to uncover the most attractive investment opportunities, and in exchange typically charge a 2% management fee and a 20% performance fee. However, on a quarterly basis, all hedge funds with more than $100 million in U.S. equity investments are required to publish their holdings in a publicly available document called the 13F.

The Global X Guru™ Index ETF (GURU) uses a proprietary methodology to compile the highest conviction ideas from a select pool of hedge funds where the 13F information is most valuable. For example, hedge funds with high turnover are eliminated from the pool. The goal of GURU is to aggregate on a quarterly basis the ideas and knowledge of hedge fund managers into the transparent, cost-efficient and easily accessible format of an ETF.

THE CASE

The Global X Guru Index ETF seeks to generate alpha over the broad market by investing in highest conviction ideas from a select pool of hedge funds.

GURU Opportunities and Potential Benefits

- Generate alpha<sup>1</sup> vs. benchmark equity indexes (e.g. S&P 500)
- Quarterly rebalance to capture changing hedge fund positions
- No 2/20 hedge fund fee structure<sup>2</sup> - the expense ratio for GURU is 0.75%
- Intra-day liquidity with no minimum investment
- Transparency - holdings are published daily here: www.globalxfunds.com/GURU

<sup>2</sup> A 2 and 20 fee structure is common among hedge funds. It represents an annual fee of 2% of assets as well as a 20% fee on profits.

Solactive Guru Index is comprised of the top U.S. listed equity positions reported on Form 13F by a select group of entities that Solactive AG characterizes as hedge funds.

S&P 500 is an index of 500 stocks chosen by factors such as market size, liquidity and industry grouping. The Index is designed to be a leading indicator of U.S. equities and is meant to reflect the risk/return characteristics of the large-cap universe.

Investing involves risk, including the possible loss of principal. The 13F filings used to select the securities in the Underlying Index are filed by each hedge fund approximately 45 days after the end of each calendar quarter. Therefore a given hedge fund may have already sold its position by the time of the 13F filing. The fund's manager employs leverage, which may accelerate the velocity of potential losses. The fund invests in small and mid-capitalization companies, which have greater volatility and less financial resources than large-capitalization companies. Furthermore, the fund may hold foreign securities which are subject to different risks than domestic securities, including foreign currency fluctuation, different financial and accounting standards, and political instability.

Shares are bought and sold at market price (not NAV) and are not individually redeemed from the fund. Market price returns are based upon the midpoint of the bid/ask spread at the close of the exchange and do not represent the returns an investor would receive if shares were traded at other times. Brokerage commissions will reduce returns. NAVs are calculated using prices as of 4:00pm ET. Indices are unmanaged and do not include the effect of fees, expenses or sales charges. One cannot invest directly in an index. The information provided is not intended for trading purposes, and should not be considered investment advice. Returns for periods greater than one year are annualized.
